INTRODUCTION

The student is the living part of Alma High School. Without the student all classes and activities would be non-existent. Through the student, the school has been able to enlarge and change. This yearbook portrays segments of the student life as they happened. Reflect back and take pride in the part you played as a student in helping our school to be and to excel.

ACTIVITIES

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Alma High is not the sort of place that will soon be forgotten by anyone — least of all the Class of 1970, the old building's last graduating class. Soon after graduation, much of venerable AHS will be demolished; the Lincoln Building, home of many a heated debate in Mrs. Woods' room and many a "coming to consciousness" theme for Mrs. Snellenberger, will be among the casualties. We, the staff of the 1970 PANTHER TALES, have attempted to make this year's book a kind of memorial to the memory of AHS as we knew it, the friendly, plaster-cracking old edifice, a place with real character and an atmosphere you could sink your teeth into — not the antiseptic new multi-million dollar AHS the underclassmen are inheriting.

In compiling this book, we received much generous help. Thanks are in order to Stovall's Studio of Alma, Gale's Photography of Mt. Pleasant, and Mr. Walker's Graphic Arts class for the photography; to our advertisers and patrons for their spiritual and monetary faith in our project; to Mr. Ray Figg and the American Yearbook Company for the limitless help they provided; and to teachers and students alike for their willingness to help when called upon.

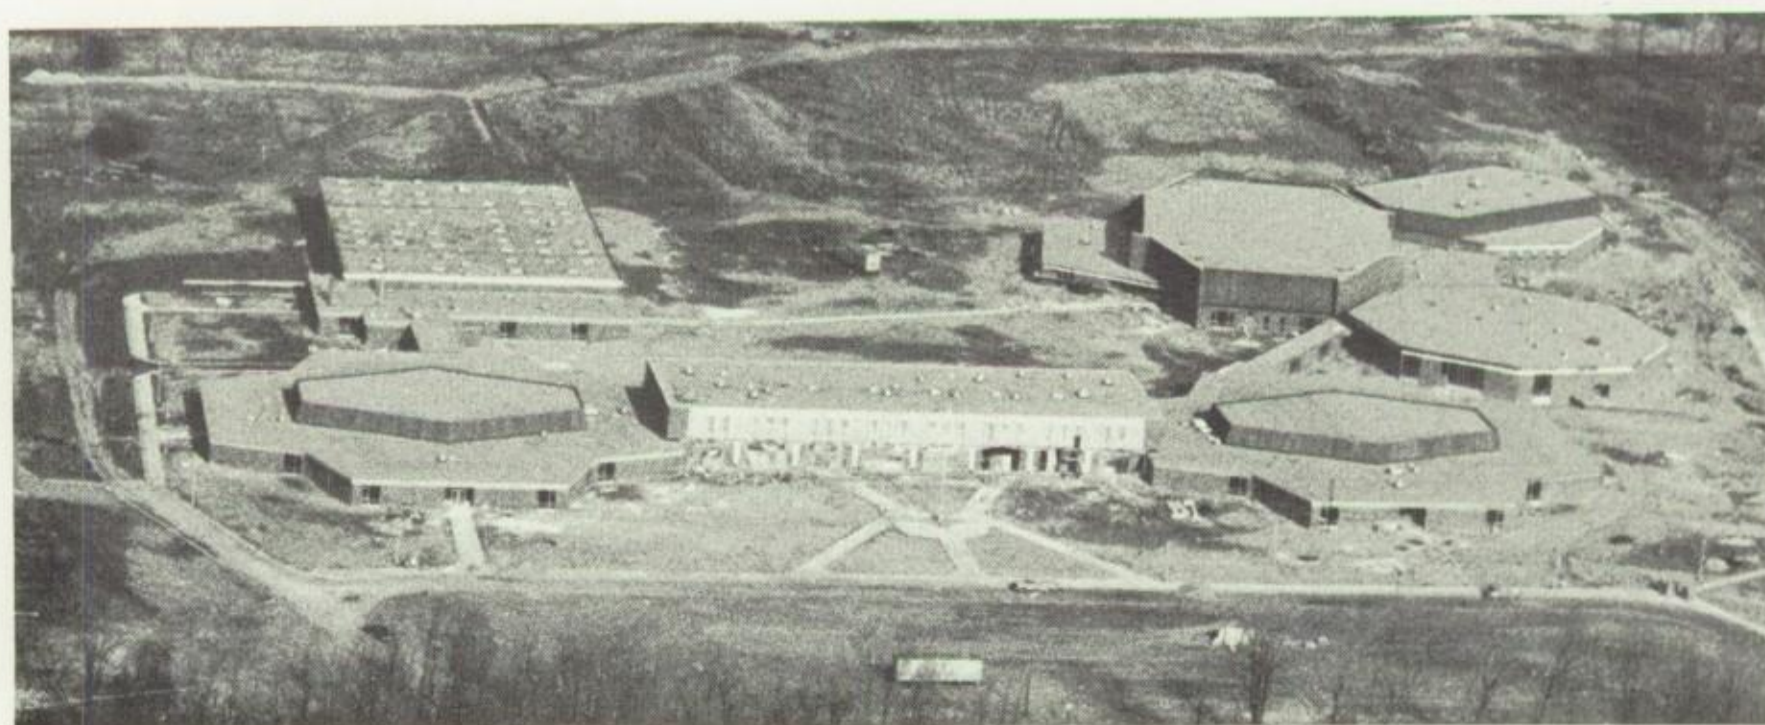

To the 1970 PANTHER TALES Staff, the editor wishes to give an extra-special thanks for a job well done. The hours spent on the production of a yearbook are long and hard, and each staff member missed countless study halls and contributed extra effort to produce the best possible results. In turn, the entire staff wishes to sincerely thank Mrs. Shock, for her boundless assistance and general service Above and Beyond the Call of Duty as our advisor.

Hopefully, this volume of THE PANTHER TALES will serve its future purpose as well as entertaining us all now . . . when we have all gone our separate ways in years to come, it may help to revive and sustain fond memories of our high school years in good ol' AHS.

Steve Beery, Editor
and the 1970 PANTHER TALES Staff.
